If you have a website, you need to ask the provider/host to sign a disclosure (again they should be aware of the new DP rules). Also ask them about cyber essentials protection.

Encrypt all your memory sticks.

All personal details/paperwork should be stored in lockable cupboards/files.

Make sure you have excellent virus protection set up and update it weekly.

Regarding the children element, the only I am aware of is that in the show catalogue for the junior handlers, you must only write the first name of the child and not the surname and age.
